To whom it may concern,

I am a technology executive with 15 years of experience across the Americas and Europe, working at the intersection of business strategy, technology leadership and innovation. I have worked on the vendor side, at Oracle, and on the end-client side, which has given me a complete view of how technology creates real value in organizations.

At Oracle I moved from leading pre-sales to becoming a commercial director. I worked on hundreds of solution proposals, architectures and proof of concepts across all industries and throughout Latin America; for years I traveled almost every week to a different country. There I learned the pain points of every area of a business and the application solutions that address them: ERP, SCM, CX and HR.

Later, at Gerdau-SIDERPERU, I was appointed CIO after my first year. I built the plant's Innovation and Digital Transformation area from scratch, led a team of more than 20 people, and delivered 25 digital transformation projects and pilots in two years. One of them, in 2021, was an artificial intelligence project to predict energy peaks at the plant, long before AI became the central conversation it is today.

Today I am Chief Digital Officer at WOBI. Among my projects are the Salesforce upgrade, the transformation of the business model from transactional sales to subscriptions, and the launch of the WOBI App. I have also hosted the World Business Forum and shared the stage with global management leaders.

I am interested in exploring executive positions (C-Level, Director, Head, VP) in technology, digital transformation, projects, product or strategy, where I can contribute both strategic vision and the ability to execute.

I am based in Madrid, with full flexibility and immediate availability to relocate. I am comfortable with any format: 100% on-site, hybrid or remote.

I am available to talk whenever it suits you.

Kind regards,
